

Electro-Technical Training for Marine Engineers

This course intends to deepen the knowledge and skills of marine engineers in the operation and maintenance of electro-technical equipment. While the chief engineer is responsible for the department embodied by the marine engineers and their efficiency in operations, maintaining and operating the ship's main propulsion machinery and auxiliary plant, including deck machinery, air conditioning plants, refrigeration plants, and domestic and electrical services are some of the responsibilities shared by the marine engine officers.

For Inquires and reservation, please contact us

T: (+63) 8981 66 82 loc. 2131, 2144, 2133, 2128

DL: (+63) 8991 6644 / 6643 / 6628

E: marketing@umtc.com.ph